To Whom It May Concern:

Re: California Proposition 65 Compliance- All Belden Cable Part Numbers

Belden cable products may contain ingredients such as DIDP, DINP or antimony trioxide; However, because these products are infrequently handled, they have been determined to be exempt from labeling in accordance with a NEMA consent judgment (Section 7 of the Consent Judgment in Mateel Environmental Justice Foundation v. Sprint Communications et al., and Mateel Environmental Justice Foundation v. Belkin Components et al., San Francisco Superior Court Cases Nos. 312962 and 320342, entered in to and executed by a Belden representative in April 2003).

Despite the ongoing changes to California Proposition 65, up to and including the August 2018 revisions, Belden products have been determined to be within the scope of the consent judgement as our products and materials are substantially similar to what was produced when the consent judgment was entered into by the parties.

The information provided in this Product Disclosure, and the identification of materials listed as reportable or restricted within the Product Disclosure, is correct to the best of Belden's knowledge, information and belief at the date of its publication. The information provided in the Product Disclosure is designed only as a general guide for the safe handling, storage, and any other operation of the product itself or the one that it becomes a part of. This Product Disclosure is not to be considered a warranty or quality specification. Regulatory information is for guidance purposes only. Product users are responsible for determining the applicability of legislation and regulations based on their individual usage of the product.
